You say you want to try again,

Bury it down between the lines, well, I have a better end in mind

It doesn't seem you really have to close your eyes to see

Though I know you don't mean to be, You are so far from me.

There was something I had caught inside

Screaming hard to make it known in time it died alone.

It doesn't seem you really have to close your eyes to see

You have been all you'll be to me

It's just too late and we can't relate at all

This is the last time I wanna say so long (so long ooh..)

This song is my last song for you

There's just nothing here to hold on to baby (hold on to...)

Nothing to hold on to
